Miss Adams wed to Mr. Strong

The marriage of Miss Cheryl Adams to Mr. Jonothan Strong took place Saturday, October 29, 1983 at two o'clock in the afternoon on the grounds of the Adams residence in Pamplin, Virginia.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wade Adams of Pamplin. The groom is the son of Mrs. Henry Hooker Strong, Jr. of Chesapeake, Virginia and the late Captain Strong.

The Reverends Clarence and Sallye Bowen, ministers of the Pamplin United Methodist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Barbara Pickett, pianist. Selections included were Prelude, Op. 28, No. 4 by Chopin, Liebestraum by Lizst, the love theme from Tschaikousky's ballet, Romeo and Juliet, Chopin's Polonaise, Concerto No. 1. Soloists for the wedding were Mrs. Karen Fratrick Dowden of Appomattox, Va. who sang "Evergreen" and "Yesterday I Loved You", and Mrs. George Hughes of Nagshead, N.C. sang "On The Wings Of Love". The processional piece was Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary".

Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of tissue faille overlayed with silk organza and featured a fitted bodice appliqued with Rachelle lace and seed pearls, Queen Anne neckline and full, wrist length sleeves. The semi-fitted skirt featured a chapel length train adorned by tiered crystal pleated ruffles and accented with Rachelle lace. Her fingertip two tiered veil of illusion was trimmed with Rachelle lace and fell from a Juliet cap of Rachelle lace ornamented with seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of burgundy and white roses, stephanotis, lily of the valley, and English ivy.

Following the double ring ceremony, Mrs. Karen F. Dowden sang "Annie's Song".

Mrs. Gina A. Mitchell of Pamplin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dusty rose floor length gown of crepe de-chine. Her gown featured a fitted bodice and semi-flared skirt, wide scooped neckline, puffed elbow length sleeves and self trim bows on the shoulders. She carried a long stemmed white mum with white streamers. Bridesmaids were Miss Lorna Goin of Appomattox and Miss Deborah Goin of Prospect, cousins of the bride, and Miss Sabrina Richardson of Pamplin, friend of the bride. They wore burgundy gowns of identical style as that of the matron of honor. They carried a long stemmed white mum with white streamers.

Mr. Maymond L. Mitchell, Jr. of Pamplin, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Steven Goin of Appomattox, Mr. George Guido of Spotsylvania and Mr. John Lucas of Richmond, uncles of the bride, Mr. Talmage Harris of Richmond, cousin of the bride and Mr. John Scott of Washington, D.C., friend of the bride and groom.

The bridegroom wore his late father's black wool tuxedo, which featured eutaway tails with satin striped pants and faille lapels. He wore a white pleated shirt with a wing-tipped collar and a black bow tie, with a white rose boutonniere.

Miss Andrea Lucas of Richmond and Miss Anna Dickerson of Prospect, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. They wore identical pink floor length gowns and carried baskets of pink mum petals. Master Matthew Guido of Sportsylvania, cousin of the bride was ring bearer. He wore a three piece heather grey and cream pin-striped suit.

Mrs. John A. Lucas of Richmond, aunt of the bride, was mistress of ceremonies. Miss Beverly Goin of Appomattox and Miss Lisa Goin of Prospect, cousins of the bride, attended the guest register.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Adams chose a royal blue and pink pin-striped crepe dress with burgundy accessories with a corsage of pink mums.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained with an outdoor reception. Catering the occasion was Mrs. William Dickerson, Jr. of Prospect, assisted by Miss Kelly Bowen of Pamplin and Mrs. Nan Farinholt, Jr. of Surry, Va. Mrs. Margaret Guido of Spotsylvania served the punch and Mrs. Hannah Arrington of Pamplin served the wedding cake.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a cranberry red and black stripped crepe dress and a cranberry velvet jacket with black accessories. At the shoulder she wore a corsage of burgundy and white roses and baby's breath.

The bride is a graduate of Appomattox County High School, has attended Longood College and is currently a student at Old Dominion University. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. DeWitt Goin of Appomattox and Mrs. Raleigh Adams of Pamplin.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Immanuel High School in Reedley, California and has attended DeVry Institute of Technology in Phoenix, Arizona. He is employed by Cox Cable Television in Virginia Beach. He is the grandson of Mrs. Christina Heighberger of Norfolk and Mrs. Henry Hooker Strong, Sr. of North Wales, Pennsylvania.

Culinary Comments by Emil

Before there was man, there was wine. If, millions of years ago some grapes had fallen into a hollow stone, there would have been wine waiting for man to arrive.

Wine makes itself, but the secret to its quality is in the grapes cultivated by man. Hence, one of the first things Noah did after leaving the ark was to plant a vineyard.

Some 8,000 varieties of grapes can be fermented. But only about 50 produce first-rate wines. While the French have excelled in wine-making, choice wines come from Germany, Italy and, of course, the United States.

Emil's offers an excellent wine list for your dining pleasure ...for a meal without wine is like a day without sunshine.
